MAKING FRIENDS WITH THE CNC MACHINE

The collaborative explorations of Aptech, Mumbai

Based in Mumbai, and founded by proprietor Pritesh Shah, Aptech's work in CNC technology has been critical in realising complex spatial and material explorations that involve co-creating ideas with brands, designers and architects.

Pritesh (Founder) and Ajaz (Chief Planning & Production Incharge), at Aptech, Mumbai. Most designers who collaborate with Aptech consider them partners who add value to the design process and respect the design intent

Initiated in the year 1999, APTECH has come to be known as one of the leading manufacturers and suppliers in the domains of Laser Cutting, Laser Engraving, 3D and 2D CNC Routing, CNC Cuttings, Murals and Designer installations making, Signage Products and Thermoforming. Aptech's clients include brands such as L&T, Lodha Group, Kalpataru Group, Raheja Group, Phoenix Malls Group, Godrej Group, Sheth Creators, Narang Realities. For the purpose of this article, we have focused on their work with architects and designers.

ANUSHA NARAYANAN (Author) studied architecture from SMVDU, Jammu & Kashmir. She is a Partner at Fish Do It Consultants, a writer/editor and former curator of Colour Quotient by Asian Paints. In the past, she has been the Associate Editor at Kyoorius, a writer at Indian Architect & Builder, and a Freelance Contributor to Insite (IIID).
